Still on Track: 100 Years of the Melbourne Women's Walking Club

Still on Track chronicles the first 100 years of the Melbourne Women's Walking Club. It looks at each decade and its historical context and describes how club members responded to social changes that existed at the time. Members were often at the forefront of social change in their adventures, clothing and confident attitudes. Illustrated with many photos drawn from the Club's archive, this beautifully produced book will be an asset to the library of anyone interested in the history of women walking in Australia and the values women across the decades have shared as members of this remarkable club.
